

SENATOR FRAZIER'S SHIRT DOES DOUBLE DUTY

FAIR SHOWS ECONOMY NEVER DREAMED OF.

Women's Exhibits Most Unique Ever Displayed in Chattanooga.

Interested visitors thronged the woman's building at the fair grounds Tuesday and lingered over attractions in the various booths. Mrs. Newell Sanders, Mrs. C. M. Greve and other hostesses assisted Mrs. Earl Cook, general chairman, in meeting the visitors and showing them through.

Booths banded high with flowers on either side of the entrance add much to its attractiveness. In fact, everything is arranged with an eye to the decorative.

Among some of the booths are the following:

The industrial committee of the woman's Council of Defense is making a display of women's work where women are taking the places of men. Mrs. Newell Sanders is chairman for the work and takes much interest in explaining the exhibition.

Quite a lot of finely finished harness is in the collection from the Southern Saddlery Harness company, on which all the finishing work was done by women. The scraps of leather have been worked up into pocketbooks, handbags and wrist watch holders. Loomis & Hart have a dressing table that was finished by women. The Co-operative Hosiery mills have a nice display of silk hosiery made by women, which includes eleven colors. There are 100 different styles. This concern works from 1,200 to 1,400 women in its different plants.

Another lot of hosiery is made by women employees at the textile mills at Alton Park, and a showing of boxes from the Acme Box factory are all the work of women.

A large lot of women's overalls from the Hosiery and Co-operative factories is displayed as the work of women.

Conservation in Clothing. Just listen how economy and conservation have been reduced to a science. The Daughters of the British Empire booth at the fair shows children's clothing made of half-worn garments of the grown-ups. One is a boy's overcoat for their French orphan, made of the better part of an old coat. The scraps that are large enough are used for sacques and caps; the leavings from these are made into infants' booties, and still the leavings from these are clipped and used for stuffing ambulance pillows. Not a single scrap is lost.

An overcoat and cap for a French orphan were made from an old khaki shirt. A cloak for a girl was made from an old brown velvet scarf. Children's muslin underwear is made from the scraps of the surgeons' coats and the knit underwear from remnants of casing at the mills. The booties are from the leavings of the hospital pajamas and dressing gowns.

Mrs. W. H. Cooper is president of the Daughters of the British Empire organization and the Highland Park Red Cross auxiliary. The Daughters of the British Empire have adopted one French orphan and are clothing one mother and two boys.

Senator Frazier's Shirt. The parent-teachers have carried out the novel idea of making garments out of the old shirts of prominent local men. A very pretty girl's address is made of one Senator Frazier's tucked bosom shirt. Another dress, very effectively striped, is from one of Gen. Whitaker's shirts. A coat dress is

DON'T USE AUTOS SUNDAY.

Unless Absolutely Necessary, Even for Liberty Loan

The fuel administration in Washington holds that the same rule applies to the use of automobiles for Sunday liberty loan meetings as applies to use of autos on gasless Sundays. It is earnestly desired that people attend both church and liberty loan meetings on Sunday, but the spirit of the president's request for the conservation of gasoline is that our people use street cars, buggies, farm wagons or walk, unless the distance is so far as to make it beyond their strength. If there is no other means available and one's conscience will permit, automobiles may be used.

Remember, one drop of gasoline saved over here may mean one drop less of blood spilled over there. Washington does not permit the use of autos on Sundays for Red Cross meetings. W. E. MYER, United States Fuel Administrator for Tennessee.

made from Louis H. Potter's Palm Beach coat. Others are from the shirts of Commissioner Huffaker and Sgt. Winder.

Exhibits Ages Old.

"Auld Lang Syne" is the name of a booth conducted by St. Paul's guild, which contains a large and handsome collection of articles of the long ago. Among them are two infant's christening robes, the property of Mrs. J. R. Agnew, made and embroidered by hand by her great-grandmother. All of her brothers and sisters were baptized in them, also her two children. The dresses were made in Scotland and were handed down through the generations. They have crossed the ocean three times.

A unique and handsome piece of furniture made by a man well up in the seventies is a doll's bedstead. It contains seven different woods and 712 separate pieces of hand carving. This is the handiwork of H. T. Fox, of Grayville, Rhea county. A pair of pot hooks 294 years old are the property of Mrs. Joe Cannon, of 1008 East Fourteenth street. A large bedspread crocheted in the design of the Crystal palace, London, and made for the national exhibition, is the work of Mrs. Jane MacKinnon. It was made in 1857, when she was only 15 years old.

Mrs. Loring Clark has on exhibition a child's dress 150 years old. Mrs. I. L. Faucett exhibits a piece of Queen Anne broadcloth silk, a part of her great-great-grandmother's wedding dress, who was married in 1719 in England. Mrs. W. G. Oehmlich is chairman of the booth.

Y. W. C. A. Display. The Y. W. C. A. booth was in charge of Miss Rosalind Ewing Tuesday. It is made very attractive by models of the hostess house Y. W. C. A. hut in France, which has on the front "Foyer des Allies"; the central Y. W. C. A. and a model railway station with a miniature track and engine approaching and a travelers' aid standing in the doorway. The display of knitting is the work of the Patriotic League of the Y. W. C. A. Placards explain the work of the war council and other branches of the association.

Y. M. C. A. Army Hut. A Y. M. C. A. army hut has been established in the camp of the 500 soldiers now encamped at the fair grounds. The hut is in charge of George Freeman, the well-known tenor singer. The Chattanooga Music club has planned, beginning with tonight, to give a program of music at the hut each evening during the fair.

SAYS DR. RENNER CHARGED TOO MUCH

PROFITEERING COMMITTEE INQUIRES INTO CASE.

Question of Apartment Rents and Soldiers' Laundry Also Investigated Tuesday.

The matter of doctor's charges for services rendered soldiers or their families came up again for investigation at Tuesday afternoon's regular meeting of the chamber of commerce profiteering committee. In this case the specific instance was a charge made by Dr. Herman Renner for attending the wife of Sergt. Dudley S. Wheatley, of Camp Greenleaf, in a maternity case.

Total charges submitted to Sergt. Dudley were as follows:

Dr. Renner's bill for delivering child $50.00
Two visits 2.00
Ambulance 2.00
West Ellis hospital charges 26.00

Total $80.00

Of this, only $25.00 was made by Dr. Renner, the subject of investigation by the committee, and the judgment was reached that $25 instead of the $80 item was a proper charge, and the question of reducing the charge to the lower figure will be taken up with Dr. Renner.

When called Wednesday morning, Dr. Renner said that he had not been notified of the committee's action, and stated that his charge was made in accordance with the recognized scale of prices used by the members of the medical association here.

Dr. Renner was recently arrested by federal authorities on a charge of evading the draft laws and his case is now awaiting action by the federal grand jury at the next term of court. The case of Dr. Renner was the only one before the committee Tuesday afternoon in which final action was taken, though a number of other cases were investigated and will be reported upon as soon as all the facts are at hand.

One of these matters is the report that two local laundries are not dealing with soldiers in the most approved manner, especially with reference to the replacement of damaged or lost articles of clothing, and one concerns the conduct of a branch laundry.

The case of an apparently exorbitant charge made by the holder of an apartment under subleasing it to an officer is under searching investigation, and the practice of the management of one apartment building in charging $5 per month, additional where a tenant subleases one or more rooms was also discussed. This last matter, while not strictly a question touching only soldiers, may be included in the activities of the committee, though Tuesday's action got no further than discussion.

It is stated by the chamber of commerce that soldiers desiring medical attention can call on the home service department of the Red Cross in the Southern Express building, or upon the chamber of commerce, and be put in touch with doctors who will either do the work free or for a small charge.

LOCAL BANKS PROTEST

A pamphlet has recently been issued by the federal reserve bank of Atlanta, entitled, "What the Banks of Tennessee Did in the Third Liberty Loan," and purporting to give—each bank's proportion of county quotas based on the bank's resources. 2. Subscriptions actually made. 3. The percentage of the quota actually taken.

It seems that the representative of the federal reserve bank to whom was assigned the task of getting up the data for this pamphlet must have been exceedingly careless, as four very surprising errors were made, the list of the subscriptions of the Chattanooga banks.

The pamphlet states that no subscriptions were made by the Chattanooga Savings bank, the St. Elmo Bank and Trust company, the Bank of East Chattanooga or the Lovenom bank.

As a matter of fact the Chattanooga Savings bank subscribed for $625,000 of these third liberty loan bonds while its quota was only $400,100, an over-subscription of 56 per cent. The St. Elmo Bank and Trust company subscribed for $47,500—just about eight times its quota, which was $5,900. The Lovenom bank subscribed for $3,500 and the Bank of East Chattanooga subscribed $8,000.

Under the circumstances these erroneous statements are most irritating to the banks in question and a protest has been made to the federal reserve bank at Atlanta.

B. OGDEN CHISHOLM

New York.—(N. E. A.)—B. Ogden Chisholm, an ex-convict, who is now reforming criminals, has discovered what he calls "a mine of promising literary talent" in prisons.

A retired banker, Chisholm maintains offices and has a large force of clerks for the sole purpose of giving a helping hand to discharged convicts.

He has been father confessor to thousands of jailbirds, giving him a better understanding of the psychology of the criminal mind than have possessed by anybody else in the country.

"Every man with an education turns to writing as a means of occupying his mind when he lands in prison," says Chisholm. "After a few weeks of long letter writing, he starts on the 'great American novel'."

"I have hundreds of manuscripts, some of them showing real talent. A few I have already sold for the authors. I have also quite a number of original prison stories."

"The solitude of the cells and the melancholia of confinement seem to set the imagination of these victims of society to work."

I can spur these writers and musicians to fresh and profitable endeavor then I shall feel that their term in jail will not have been wasted. And there is a terrific waste of energy, talent and power for usefulness under our medieval prison system."

Officers for the ensuing year, a general meeting of union textile workers will be held in East Chattanooga Thursday night.

No definite wage scale is now in effect, but the unionists will arrange an agreement which is to be presented to textile manufacturers at an early date. One of the workers said the wage now paid runs from about $7 to $20 per week.

A few of the union workers in the Chickamauga Knitting mills have been discharged, it was stated. The reason given, according to a worker, was that no person who belonged to the union would be employed.

For the purpose of investigating the textile situation, a government investigator is said to be on his way to Chattanooga. As soon as he arrives the union will be in position to lay before him its side of the matter.

The number of textile unionists is claimed to be 1,000. The organization was started about a year ago. A statement prepared by the wage scale committee for publication sets forth that the organization is ready to reach out over the hills and valleys and extend the right hand of fellowship to other workers and sincerely ask for their aid and assistance in bringing before the minds of the public the necessary demands of the union in behalf of a wage scale agreement and good working conditions. "We are prospering under new tactics," the statement explains. "Our full purpose is to build up an organization of altruism and fidelity."

Meetings are held each Thursday night in East Chattanooga and each Sunday afternoon in the Red Men's hall, East Lake. These gatherings are to boost the membership and take in new members.

THANKS LOCAL LAWYERS

Judge McReynolds as Chairman Appreciates Aid Given on Questionnaires.

Judge S. D. McReynolds, chairman of the legal advisory board of the county board No. 2, stated Wednesday morning that, now that the work was about completed, he wanted to take the opportunity to thank each and every lawyer in the county who had assisted the board in filling out the questionnaires. He said that every lawyer assigned to his board had done his full duty. Judge McReynolds further stated that he wanted to especially thank the lawyers who had volunteered to assist the board and had done so faithfully. The lawyers who assisted Judge McReynolds' board were: Emil Wassman, Paul Heyman, Sam LeClair, John Martin, Emmett Lowery, Frank Key, C. G. B. Pierce and F. J. Converse.

MARRIAGE LICENSE RECORD

Dan Cupid Does Bigger Business in September Than in October.

Dan Cupid, acquire, printed up a bit the past month and beat his record for August by five marriage licenses. In August the number who gained legal consent to marry in Hamilton county were 137, while in September just ended there were 133. September, 1917, however, outdistanced September, 1917, by eight licenses, there being 125 for September, 1917.

Sincere Gratitude.

Mrs. William Bell, Loganport, Ind., writes: "I deem it my duty to express my gratitude for the good Chamberlain's Colic, Diarrhoea Remedy did me when I had a severe attack of diarrhoea three years ago. It was the only medicine that relieved me." (Adv.)

UNCONTESTED DIVORCES

Chancellor Garvin Will Call Cases of This Class Oct. 14.

Chancellor W. B. Garvin announced Wednesday morning that during the week beginning Oct. 14 he would hear uncontested divorce cases which were ready for trial. The chancellor stated that his court would probably open in regular session Oct. 21 if at that time the work of the legal advisory boards was completed.

CHANGE OF CHARTER NAME.

Application was filed for the change in name of the charter of Brown-Simpson Motor company to Simpson-Brown Manufacturing company in the county court clerk's office Wednesday morning. The incorporators are J. B. Simpson, H. H. Spitzer, D. S. Sampson, R. E. Houston and M. Darr.

CIRCUIT COURT DOCKET.

Filing Out Questionnaires Has Delayed Setting of Trial Docket.

The circuit court docket is now on the press and will be out in a few days. The docket is an unusually long one and contains some important cases. While Judge LeClair was assisting Wednesday morning that he did not know just yet when he would assign the docket, on account of the work on the questionnaires, he said that it would probably be assigned the week commencing Oct. 21. This will be the first session of the court with Judge Yarnall presiding.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE OGLETHORPE SCANDAL

Wholesale Theft of Leather May Involve Local Merchants.

The Hamilton county grand jury, which will reconvene at the call of its foreman, George W. Chambliss, will investigate thoroughly the local end of the arrest of Sergt. Julius Follow, of the quartermaster's department at Camp Forrest, Sergt. Follow, it is remembered, was placed under arrest, and is facing a court-martial as the result of the missing of a large amount of leather, raincoats and other material from the quartermaster's department, where he was employed. Kelly Follow, who formerly ran a store at the corner of Pendleton and Ninth streets, and Joe Follow, who resides in Philadelphia, brothers of Sergt. Follow, are also said to be involved. The latter has left the city.

It was charged the goods were packed in a Red Cross box at the camp and sent to the store of Kelly Follow, and later shipped to Joe Follow, where they were disposed of. A large amount of the goods was found in Kelly Follow's place by Sgt. Follow. The officer also located 281 pairs of shoes that had been half-sold with the stolen leather in the store of Abe Silverman, on Ninth street, and a large amount of the leather in a shoe shop on Georgia avenue. It is understood that a more thorough investigation will be made by the grand jury as well as the government officials at the post, and some sensational will be sprung. The case is being widely discussed about the streets, many saying that they knew Sergt. Follow, and while he was a high liver, they would never have thought him guilty of the charge for which he is being held under arrest. Other arrests, it is stated, will be made at the post. Local officers and the attorney-general's office are quietly investigating this absolute refusal to discuss the case. At the post absolutely refused to discuss the case. At the post absolutely refused to discuss the case.

LIBERTY LOAN NO ALIBI FOR SUNDAY AUTO RIDE

Fuel Administrator Says Use Cars Only in Extreme Emergency.

It is not the plan of the fuel administration to permit all persons connected with the fourth liberty loan campaign to use their automobiles on Sunday, as has been thought. On the other hand, W. E. Myer, state fuel administrator, announces that it is the wish of the department at Washington to have the same ruling apply to the use of automobiles for the liberty loan campaign as applies to Sunday church-going.

The order set forth by Mr. Myer stresses that the president earnestly desires that the people attend both church and the liberty loan meetings. At the same time it is his desire that they either use street cars, buggies, farm wagons, or walk, unless the distance is so far as to make it beyond their strength.

Mr. Myer writes that numbers of patriotic people will attend these meetings in the old farm wagons "for God and country; they will be better Christians and better patriots for so doing." If it is too far to walk even by using due energy, and no other means is available, and the conscience of the citizen is justified, then, he says, and not until then, the auto may be used.

He writes further that it is earnestly desired that the people of Tennessee attend church and the Sunday liberty loan meetings, but they are expected to reach the place of meeting in the way God-fearing patriots should do in this hour of gasoline scarcity.

"At this hour a drop of gasoline in France is equivalent to a drop of an American soldier's blood," writes the administrator.

If necessary, permission to use cars for these meetings can be obtained from each county fuel administrator, or his many deputies and a card will be furnished to be pasted on the windshield and will be good for that particular Sunday only.

RELIEVING CONSTIPATION

When the bowels become constipated or clogged by an accumulation of feces, the residuum thus retained slowly decomposes, producing gases and liquids, which are absorbed by the intestines and taken up by the blood. Unless the bowels are thoroughly cleansed and a regular habit established, the poison thus taken into the system may manifest itself in boils, blotches, pimples and sores. Inflammation of the bowels, liver and kidneys may also result, and the absorption of the bile and uric acid by the blood becomes the source of rheumatism and nervous afflictions. In the train of constipation follows a multitude of diseases. Thus it often happens that a course of the great VIN HEPATICA treatment removes not only the constipated condition but other painful ailments which result therefrom.

L. F. Sweeney, of Route No. 1, West Nashville, Tenn., the well-known Nashville traveling salesman, writes: "There have been times when I thought I would simply have to give up my work on the road. No one knows how much I suffered from poor and irregular meals and broken rest. I was continually constipated, and my digestive system was upset. But the tide has turned for me now, and I am on the road to complete recovery. And I owe it to Vin Hepatica—nothing else. I now go to bed and sleep as soundly as a baby all night, and awaken feeling refreshed and go about my work with my old-time energy."

You can get this wonderful treatment at this designated Vin Hepatica store.

Frail, Sickly Children Improve Rapidly on Vinol

The reason we so strongly recommend Vinol for frail, sickly children is because it is a non-secret remedy which contains Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptonates and Glycophosphates—but no oil—the very elements needed to build them up. It is delicious to the taste, and children love it.

These Two Mothers Have Proved This.

Bainbridge, N.Y.
"My little daughter, 13 years old, overworked and was run-down, tired all the time, nervous, had headaches, couldn't eat and had to stay out of school. Vinol has built her up. She has a good appetite, no more headaches and has returned to school again."—Mrs. Lester Andrews.

Williamson, W. Va.
"My little boy was weak, puny, and tired all the time, did not want to do anything. Vinol was recommended and it built up his strength and made him healthy. Now he romps and plays like other children. We certainly believe in Vinol for children."—Harley Clay.
